Words Words Words 2017

After several years of hosting the group, Tony Anthony, ably supported by Kathy, has decided that he can no longer continue to do so. We thank Tony and Kathy for opening their home to us and will miss Tony's erudite and apposite interpolations during our discussions. Phil Richards has volunteered to host the group, when he is not on his travels, for which we thank him.

We have had many interesting discussions during the last year into the use and abuse of English and the origins and changing nature of the language. Without doubt the political situation in the country and the verbal machinations of the protagonists has impinged on our considerations but we have been successful in not allowing this to be dominant.

We would like to thank the members of the group for their willingness and determination to become involved and engage in some research. Amongst other topics and concepts we have considered 'Rare words in Weather', 'The language of colour', 'Political Clichés', 'Sustainability', 'Modernism and Post Modernism'. We are looking forward to another year of interesting meetings.
